The music of Yusupov is not limited by genre classifications or cultural and ethnic idioms, but rather embraces and employs all styles and influences to create his own unique musical language both as a composer and a conductor. In his compositions, he makes use of both Western and Eastern musical traditions, including the use of musical sources from various ethnic communities. With a strong devotion to timbre and color as important structural elements, Yusupov's writing includes both the use of exotic instruments and the creation of illusory ethnic sounds by employing instruments of the symphony orchestra.

His extensive catalogue, which is published exclusively by Sikorski Musikverlag (Hamburg), has been performed extensively by a wide range of renowned artists and orchestra across the globe the likes of the London Philharmonic, Munich Philharmonic, Israel Philharmonic, Lucerne Symphony Orchestra, Copenhagen Philharmonic, Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France, Bogota Philharmonic, New World Symphony, NDR Radio-Philharmonie Hannover, Iceland Symphony Orchestra, Belgrade Philharmonic, to name a few. Yusupov works closely with outstanding artists as Maxim Vengerov, Mischa Maisky, Vadim Repin, Alexander Kniazev, Maxim Rysanov, Sergei Nakariakov and others.

In 2005, Yusupov's Viola Tango Rock Concerto – written for the internationally-renowned violinist Maxim Vengerov – enjoyed a triumphant world-premiere by the NDR Radio-Philharmonie in Hannover. The music has been welcomed with great enthusiasm by audiences and critics around the globe. The work has been featured in a documentary film about the life of Maxim Vengerov titled 'Living the Dream' produced by EMI Classics and distributed worldwide.

Yusupov has also written Cello concerto for Mischa Maisky, commemorating the cellist's 60th birthday and premiered by Mischa Maisky with Lucerne Symphony Orchestra conducted by the author. The piece was commissioned by three major orchestras: Lucerne Symphony Orchestra, London Philharmonic and Israel Philharmonic.

The second Concerto for Violin and Orchestra entitled Voices of Violin represents an unusual idea: the soloist is invited to play six movements not only from different historical periods of time, not only from different geographical areas, but also different performance styles, styles of sound-making, bowing, intonation, grace notes and so on. The piece was commissioned by Trans-Siberian Art Festival 2014, Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France and Berliner Symphoniker and performed by Vadim Repin to whom it's dedicated.

The short list of venues Yusupov appeared as conductor includes KKL Lucerne, Berlin Philharmonie Hall, Amsterdam Concertgebouw, Prinzregententheater Munich, Cologne Philharmonie. He conducted among others Lucerne Symphony, Slovenian Philharmonic, Sinfonietta Amsterdam, Bogota Philharmonic, Iceland Symphony, Novosibirsk Philharmonic, Jerusalem Symphony, Bulgarian National Radio Orchestra, to name a few.

Born in Dushanbe, Tajikistan in 1962, Yusupov studied piano, composition and conducting at the Tchaikovsky State Conservatory in Moscow with Roman Ledeniov, Yuri Fortunatov and Dmitri Kitajenko. He received his PhD degree at Bar-Ilan University.

Yusupov was awarded the Clone Prize (1992), the Sherover Award (1993), the Israeli Prime Minister Prizes (1999, 2008), the ACUM Prizes (2002, 2004) the Landau Award for the Performing Arts (2007), and Engel Prize (2009).

Die Musik von Benjamin Yusupov kennt weder Grenzen zwischen einzelnen Gattungen noch zwischen unterschiedlichen Kulturen oder ethnischen Idiomen, sondern sie beschäftigt sich mit sämtlichen Stilen und Einflüssen. Yusupov kreiert dabei sowohl als Komponist als auch als Dirigent eine ganz eigene musikalische Sprache. In seinen Kompositionen verarbeitet er sowohl Musiktraditionen des Westens als auch des Ostens, wobei er besonders auf musikalische Überlieferungen verschiedener ethnischer Gemeinschaften zurückgreift. Zudem sind für Yusupov Timbre und Klangfarbe sehr wichtige strukturelle Elemente. Ein weiterer kompositorisch besonderer Aspekt ist sowohl die Verwendung von original ethnischen Instrumenten als auch die Annäherung an diese Klangwelt mit den Instrumenten des westlichen Sinfonieorchesters.

Weltweit spielen namhafte Orchester Yusupovs Musik, wie zum Beispiel das London Philharmonic Orchestra, die Münchner Philharmoniker, das Israel Philharmonic, das Luzerner Symphonie Orchester, das Copenhagen Philharmonic, das Orchestre Philharmonic de Radio France, das Bogota Philharmonic, die New World Symphony, die NDR Radio Philharmonie Hannover, das Iceland Symphony Orchestra oder das Belgrade Philharmonic. Zudem arbeitet Yusupov mit Interpreten wie Maxim Vengerov, Mischa Maisky, Vadim Repin, Alexander Kniazev, Maxim Rysanow, Sergei Nakariakov und weiteren zusammen.

2005 wurde sein Viola Tango Rock Concerto, welches er für Maxim Vengerov geschrieben hat, mit außerordentlichem Erfolg in Hannover mit der dortigen Radio Philharmonie des NDR aus der Taufe gehoben. Dieses Werk wurde mittlerweile weltweit von Publikum und Presse enthusiastisch gefeiert. Zudem nahm dieses Konzert einen besonderen Platz in der Dokumentation ‚Living the dream‘ (EMI Classics) über das Leben von Maxim Vengerov ein.

Yusupov schrieb aus Anlass des 60. Geburtstages des Solisten ein Konzert für Violoncello und Orchester für Mischa Maisky, der es gemeinsam mit dem Luzerner Symphonieorchester unter der Leitung des Komponisten uraufführte. Die drei Co-Auftraggeber waren neben dem Uraufführungorchester das London Philharmonic Orchestra und das Israel Philharmonic Orchestra.

In seinem zweiten Violinkonzert mit dem Titel Voices of Violin verwirklichte der Komponist eine ungewöhnliche Idee: der Solist präsentiert in den sechs Sätzen jeweils eine andere historische Epoche aus unterschiedlichen geografischen Regionen in Form von verschiedenen Aufführungsstilen (Klangerzeugung, Bogenbehandlung, Intonation, Verzierungen usw.). Dieses Konzert war ein Gemeinschafts-Auftrag des Transsibirischen Kunst Festivals, des Orchestre Philharmonic de Radio France und der Berliner Symphoniker. Der Soloist, dem das Stück gewidmet ist, war Vadim Repin.

Yusupov trat als Dirigent im KKL Luzern, in der Berliner Philharmonie, im Amsterdamer Concertgebouw, im Münchener Prinzregententheater und in der Kölner Philharmonie auf, wo er das Luzerner Symphonieorchester, die Slowenischen Philharmoniker, die Amsterdam Sinfonietta, das Bogota Philharmonic Orchestra, das Iceland Symphony Orchestra, das Novosibirsk Philharmonic Orchestra, das Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra oder das Bulgarian National Radio Orchestra leitete.

Benjamin Yusupov wurde 1962 in Duschanbe, Tadschikistan, geboren. Von 1981 bis 1990 studierte er am Moskauer Tschaikowski-Konservatorium Klavier, Komposition, Musiktheorie und Dirigieren bei Juri Fortunatow, Juri Cholopow und dem berühmten Dirigenten Dmitri Kitajenko. 2001 promovierte er zum Dr. phil. an der Bar-Ilan Universität in Israel.

Der Komponist wurde mit dem Clone Preis (1992), dem Sherover Award (1993), dem Preis des israelischen Ministerpräsidenten (1999, 2008), dem ACUM Preis (2002, 2004), dem Landau Award for the Performing Arts (2007) und dem Engel Prize (2009) ausgezeichnet.
